

Fred Wenzel Named New Vice President, AMCi Sales and Marketing

AMCi is pleased to announce that Fred Wenzel has joined AMCi™ as Vice President of Sales and Marketing. Fred comes to AMCi with over 30 years of experience in the oil and gas industry, including companies specializing in engineering, production/pipeline, telecommunications, service, product manufacturing, and information technology. Fred has extensive experience in business management, sales and marketing, product management, design, and brings hands-on technical experience to the AMCi team.

Fred has known AMCi since its early days and is proud to be a part of a company that he believes is first in customer service and technical product offerings, yet always continues to innovate. Fred states that AMCi has an open approach to listening to customer and industry needs, and applies creative solutions to solve them.

When asked about his expectations for 2010, Fred states, “Market feedback indicates that our business will be expanding in the coming year. The strong businesses in our industry are emerging from 2009 with excitement and less uncertainty and fears about the future. Need for our products and services are greater than ever and we are positioned for fantastic growth.”

Fred will be spending time on the road in the coming months visiting customers; but he always welcomes calls to discuss technical projects and how AMCi can solve your remote site automation and data transport requirements. Fred’s offices will be both in Texas and Colorado, but he can be reached at 303 279-2002, ext. 1205, or by email at fwenzel@amc-wireless.com.
